The Beatles Arrive in New York

February 9, 1964 - 73 million Americans - 40% of the population - tuned into the Ed Sullivan Show on CBS that evening (The largest TV audience ever for an entertainment program up to that time.) Teenage girls were hysterical in their infatuation. John, Paul, George and Ringo, The Fab Four, were the subject of rabid devotion as screaming mobs followed their every move. More than 50,000 requests were made for the 700 seats in the Ed Sullivan Theater. The screams of the audience drowned out their singing and young girls bumped and grinded to their parent's horror in living rooms across America. It was a welcome relief from the tragic Kennedy assassination just 77 days earlier. The Beatles were compensated $2500 for their efforts.

Ed greets the Beatles backstage before they perform.

The first two American albums: Capitol and Vee-Jay

In the beginning, Beatles' recordings were coming out on many different labels.
